Room 206

Here, sown by the Creator's hand, in serried ranks, the Redwoods stand; no other climate is honored so no other lands their glory know.

The greatest of Earth's living forms, tall conquerors that laugh at storms; their challenge still unanswered rings, through fifty centuries of kings.

The nations that with them were young, rich empires, with their forts far flung, lie buried now, their splendor gone; but these proud monarchs live on.

So shall they live, when ends our day, when our crude citadels decay, for belief the years allotted man, but infinite perennials' span.

This is their temple, vaulted high, and here we pause with reverent eye, with silent tongue and awestruck soul, for here we sense life's proper goal;

To be like these, straight, true and fine, to make our world, like theirs, a shrine; sink down, Oh, traveler, on your knees, God stand before you in the trees. Joseph B. Strauss
